FAQ:

Q: What kind of brake pads are compatible with the Suzuki GN125?

A: The Suzuki GN125 is compatible with organic brake pads.

Q: How often should I replace the brake pads on my Suzuki GN125?

A: It is recommended to replace the brake pads on your Suzuki GN125 every 12,000 to 15,000 miles.

Q: Do I need to replace the brake rotors as well when changing the brake pads on my Suzuki GN125?

A: It is not necessary to replace the brake rotors if they are still in good condition. However, it is important to have them inspected by a professional mechanic.

Q: Can I use aftermarket brake parts on my Suzuki GN125?

A: While aftermarket brake parts may be compatible with your Suzuki GN125, it is recommended to use genuine Suzuki brake parts to ensure optimal performance and safety.

Q: How do I know if my Suzuki GN125's brake pads need to be replaced?

A: You may notice a squeaking or grinding noise when applying the brakes, reduced brake responsiveness, or a vibration in the brake pedal. It is important to have your brakes inspected by a professional mechanic if you experience any of these symptoms.
